A photograph of a vintage sewing machine on a wooden surface, surrounded by various fabrics and a patterned bag. The sewing machine is dark-colored with a large, ornate metal foot and a complex spring mechanism. It is positioned on the left side of the frame. To its right, there is a pile of fabrics, including a light-colored woven material, a dark green fabric, and a patterned fabric with a geometric design. A large, patterned bag with a yellow and white geometric pattern is also visible. The background is a wooden surface with vertical planks. The word "MARKETS" is overlaid in white text on a semi-transparent blue background at the bottom left.
